De Deo et Eliseo

1.1 Intended Audience

This is intended for students who have completed Lectio 1 of Latin by the Natural Method and Chapters 1 and 2 of Lingua Latina Per Se Illustrata. There are 593 words.

1.2 Text

locum, et est filius meus parvus. Deus est ubique et nullibi, tamen<sup>55</sup> omnia in omnibus est. Dominus tenet omnia in ente, sed Eliseus est mortalis.

Deus habet immensam<sup>56</sup> sapientiam<sup>57</sup>. Eliseus vidit sapientiam Dei, quia Eliseus vidit mundum, et Eliseus vidit Abraham, Isaacum et Jacobum et Iesum Filium Dei. Habetne Eliseus sapientiam? Habet sapientiam, si facit bonum. Deus in bonitate<sup>58</sup> est optimus<sup>59</sup>. Deus fecit bonum. Estne Eliseus optimus in bonitate. Non est, quia Eliseus mortalis et habet locum. Esne optimus in bonitate? Non es, quia mortalis et habes<sup>60</sup> locum. Non es perfectissimus et beatissimus. Deus est lux<sup>61</sup> inaccessa<sup>62</sup>. Lux mundi Iesus est. Iesus habet lucem, sed mundus non habet lucem, quia Deus inaccessus est sine gratia. Deus est sine loco, ergo inaccessus. Iesus dedit gratiam. Deus non habet locum, sed Iesus locum habet in humanitate<sup>63</sup>. Deus est conservator<sup>64</sup> mundi quia Deus tenet mundum in ente. Conservator tenet mundum in ente. Conservator mundi solus<sup>65</sup> inexhaustus<sup>66</sup> fons gratiae est. Deus solus est, sed Eliseus non solus est.

<sup>72</sup>praedestinatio = Predestination

Chapter 2

Deus et Eliseus venerunt in mundum

2.1 Intended Audience

This is intended for students who have completed Lectio 2 of Latin by the Natural Method and Chapter 3 of Lingua Latina Per Se Illustrata. 336 words are in this chapter.

2.2 Text

<sup>10</sup>Lūna = The Moon

<sup>13</sup>Avēs = Birds

<sup>14</sup>Volant = fly

<sup>15</sup>Avis = Bird

<sup>16</sup>Homō = Man, Human

<sup>22</sup>Crucifixiō = Crucifixion

<sup>23</sup>Umbra = Shadow

Mundus habet montēs(5)<sup>26</sup>. Mōns<sup>27</sup> est altus. Altissimus<sup>28</sup> Mōns mundī est Mōns Ēvērest. Mundus etiam habet silvās(6)<sup>29</sup>, quae sunt magnae. Silva habet multās arborēs<sup>30</sup>. Arbor est alta et habet folia<sup>31</sup>. Folia sunt parvae et cadunt<sup>32</sup> ex arbore<sup>33</sup>. Sub silvā<sup>34</sup> est umbra. Mōns habet umbram. In campō(7)<sup>35</sup> nōn sunt multae arborēs, sed paucae arborēs. Mundus habet campōs, quī habent foenum<sup>36</sup>. Animālia(8)<sup>37</sup>, quae sunt in campō, comedunt<sup>38</sup> foenum. Mōns et silva et campus habent foenum. Foenum est parvus, arbor est magna. Foenum, quod est in campōs, parvum est. Eliseus, filius meus parvus, est animal. Deus nōn est animal, sed creātor, cōservātor, et gubernātor mundi.

Mundus habet aquam<sup>39</sup> in marī<sup>40</sup>. Mare est locus multae aquae in mundō. Maximum<sup>41</sup> mare est Ōceanus<sup>42</sup> Pācificus. In marī piscēs(4)<sup>43</sup> natant<sup>44</sup>. Piscis natat in aquā, et est animal, et vīvit in aquā. Homō natat in aquā, sed nōn vīvit in aquā. Jonās nōn natāvit et vīxit in marī, quia mortuus<sup>45</sup> fuit in pisce magnō, sicut in librō Iōnae. Aqua est ūna quattuor<sup>46</sup> elementōrum<sup>47</sup>. Quattuor elementa<sup>48</sup> sunt aqua, terra<sup>49</sup>, āēr<sup>50</sup> et ignis. Mundus plēnus<sup>51</sup> est cum quattuor elementīs.

Chapter 3

Deus et Eliseus Ascenderunt in Caelum

3.1 Intended Audience

This is intended for students who have completed Lectio 3 and 4 of Latin by the Natural Method and Chapter 4 of Lingua Latina Per Se Illustrata. There are 436 words in this chapter.

3.2 Text

In Caelō, Eliseus vīdit avēs<sup>10</sup>, quae volāvērunt<sup>11</sup> per nūbēs<sup>12</sup>. Ubiubi<sup>13</sup> avis<sup>14</sup> volāvit, movet<sup>15</sup> āerem. Ubiubi Eliseus aspexit<sup>16</sup>, Eliseus vīdit avēs et nūbēs. Quid nōn vīdit Eliseus? Angelōs<sup>17</sup> nōn vīdit Eliseus. Cūr<sup>18</sup>? Suntne Angelī in Caelō cum Deō? Angelī in caelō sunt. Caelum habet trēs<sup>19</sup> significātiōnēs<sup>20</sup>. Significātiō prīma<sup>21</sup> est haec<sup>22</sup> Ubi sunt nūbēs et avēs et sōl et lūna. Significātiō secunda<sup>23</sup> Ubi sunt Angelī. Angelī nōn habent corpora nec locōs, sicut Deus in essentiā, sed angelī in Caelō sunt. Tertia<sup>24</sup> significātiō est ubi est Deus, in aeternō. Angelī nōn sunt in aeternō, sed in aevō<sup>25</sup>. Angelī in aevō sunt quia creatiōnēs immortalēs<sup>26</sup> sunt sed

Dicāmus dē significātiōne prīmā. Caelum rotātur<sup>29</sup> et ambit<sup>30</sup> terram stan-tem<sup>31</sup> in mediō<sup>32</sup>. Quid est "ambit". Sicut terra ambit sōlem<sup>33</sup>, et nūbēs ambiunt terram. Iēsus filius Nun (Hic est Joshua anglice) ambit Jerichōnem septiēs<sup>34</sup>. Quid est "rotātur"? Terra rotātur et ambit Sōlem. Sōl nōn rotātur, sed stat<sup>35</sup>. Sōl, ubiubi est, fulget<sup>36</sup> perpetuō<sup>37</sup> in terrā. Sī nox<sup>38</sup> in Eurōpā, diēs in Asiā. Nūbēs enim<sup>39</sup> sunt in caelō, tamen<sup>40</sup> sōl fulget, sed radii<sup>41</sup> nōn sunt in terrā. Radius est lūx quam mīsīt<sup>42</sup> Sōl in terrā. Eliseus nōn vīdit sōlem, sī in nūbibus dēnsīs<sup>43</sup> est. Eliseus autem vīdit avēs, ergō nūbēs dēnsae nōn sunt, ergō Eliseus vīdit sōlem et radiōs eius.
